Trait Capacitor Report

A Customized Report For: Sample English
Date: 09/29/2021

INTRODUCTION

Summary

The Trait Capacitor Report estimates your energy capacity for various competencies. Once your basic traits (5 supertraits and 23 subtraits) are analyzed, your scores go through another level of analysis to estimate your capacity to perform a competency. These estimates are based on specific research studies. In addition to a score, the estimates of your capacity are also described along a continuum: Energizing to Natural to Somewhat Natural to Draining to Outside Comfort Zone.

Description of the Report

For each competency, you will find your overall estimate of fit score or capacity for the competency as a number from 1 – 10 and an interpretation as follows:

- 9-10 = Energizing
- 7-8 = Natural
- 5-6 = Somewhat Natural
- 3-4 = Draining
- 1-2 = Outside Comfort Zone

Below the score, the competency is defined and the research source is noted. The optimum traits, based on the research, are in the first column and your actual scores are in the second column. The third column contains a visual graphic and a phrase explaining how closely the optimum trait and your actual trait match. The fourth column in the table provides a narrative description of your estimated capacity to perform the competency.

The competencies in this report were selected from the following list:

Action Orientation	Managing through Systems
Adherence to Policy	Meeting Management
Ambiguity & Paradox, Comfort with	Motivation of Others

IMPORTANT NOTE:

These capacity scores do not reflect your performance. The Workplace Big Five Profile 4.0 does not measure performance. It only measures the trait energy you have to support a competency. It is possible to perform a competency very well and still have a capacity score of Draining or Outside of Comfort Zone. What the capacity score reflects is your natural trait energy for that competency only. Looking at your trait capacity along with your performance level gives you an idea of what strategy to employ with the competency.

The Workplace Performance 360°™ does measure performance and is a great tool to use alongside this Trait Capacitor Report to determine which of the Human Resource Optimization (HRO) strategies to use for each competency. To learn more about HRO, see "Owner's Manual for Personality at Work, 2nd edition" or the "WorkPlace Big Five Profile Workbook" by Pierce J. Howard, Ph.D. and Jane Mitchell Howard, MBA.

TRAIT CAPACITY FOR COMPETENCY:

Action Orientation

Overall estimated Fit, or capacity for this competency:

FIVE (One = Low; Five = Medium; Ten = High)

Interpretation of Fit Score:

Somewhat Natural

A person who performs this competency well at work:

- Displays a sense of urgency
 - Speedy and timely decision maker
 - Ambitious and driven
- Ben-Zur & Wordi (94), Mohr & Howard (99)*

OPTIMUM TRAITS:	ACTUAL TRAITS:	AVAILABLE TRAIT ENERGY:	DESCRIPTION OF YOUR ESTIMATED CAPACITY, BASED ON YOUR TRAIT SCORES, TO PERFORM THIS COMPETENCY:
N+	N=	Half Full	Excellence in Action Orientation is optimally supported by a nervous edge that provides a sense of urgency, speed, and drive. Your moderate score on N suggests that you have sufficient nervous energy to support a moderate amount of action-oriented work, but that on occasion you may desire a more casual pace.
E++	E--	Almost Empty	Your score suggests that you are highly introverted, more so that 93% of the population. As a result, you would tend to be more comfortable in roles that require a minimum of people contact. That is not to say that you cannot be comfortable in an action-oriented role, but the action would be more satisfying if it did not involved other people to a significant degree.
E3++	E3-	Running Low	Your low energy level is best suited for work that requires more of a sedentary approach, or at least an approach that does not require a high level of physical activity. You would be most comfortable in a position with a slower pace, which is not to say that you can not be highly productive in your own way.
E5-	E5-	Full	A healthy amount of skepticism insures that each part of the equation (people, machinery, processes) is getting the job done. Your low level of trust leads you to show such skepticism--you don't automatically assume that folks are doing what they are supposed to be doing. You naturally want to check to make sure all is going as it should.
O-	O-	Full	Your low level of originality is supportive of action-oriented work. You are typically comfortable with repetitive activity, and, as most action-oriented work is repetitive, it would be unlikely to bore you. You place a premium on work that is practical, productive, and efficient.
A-	A=	Half Full	Your inconsistent midrange scores on Accommodation suggest that you perhaps run hot and cold with respect to how you handle power and dominance issues--sometimes you like to hold the upper hand and be in control, while other times you are content to defer to others.

TRAIT CAPACITY FOR COMPETENCY:

Action Orientation

OPTIMUM TRAITS:	ACTUAL TRAITS:	AVAILABLE TRAIT ENERGY:	DESCRIPTION OF YOUR ESTIMATED CAPACITY, BASED ON YOUR TRAIT SCORES, TO PERFORM THIS COMPETENCY:
A2-	A2=	 + Half Full	Your mid range scores show inconsistent responding, which suggests that your competitiveness is situational--sometimes you hold out for your needs or interests, while other times you submit to the needs and interests of others.
A4-	A4+	 + Running Low	Your natural frame of mind is to hold your thoughts and feelings to yourself, and this tendency can adversely affect the communications necessary to the action.
C-	C=	 + Half Full	The soul of action is spontaneity and a willingness to switch tasks according to what is needed at the moment. While you can be spontaneous in many situations, too much of it is not satisfying, for you also like to focus on accomplishing your goals. In an action-oriented situation, your goal focus could help or hinder, depending on whether your goals fit the needs of the action in play.
C3++	C3--	 + Almost Empty	Your very low score on Drive, or Will to Achieve, suggests that you are relatively satisfied with your current level of achievement. Hence, while you may have lots of energy to support the requirements of an action-oriented job, that energy is likely to go into a variety of goals and priorities, rather than be focused on attaining a single, all-encompassing goal.
C5--	C5-	 + Full	Methodicalness is normally a hindrance to maintaining an action orientation. The more we are slave to the plan, the harder it is to stay revved up and in the thick of the action. Your moderately low score on Methodicalness indicates that you are less likely than 2/3 of the workforce to allow a plan to keep you from being spontaneous in going wherever the action may lead you.

TRAIT CAPACITY FOR COMPETENCY:

Adherence To Policy

Overall estimated Fit, or capacity for this competency:

EIGHT (One = Low; Five = Medium; Ten = High)

Interpretation of Fit Score:

Natural

A person who performs this competency well at work:

- Adheres to industry guidelines
- Prone to follow established procedures
- Tends to go "by the book"

Horner (96), Kyl-Heku & Buss (96), Cialdini, Trost & Newsom (95), Yik & Tang (96)

OPTIMUM TRAITS:	ACTUAL TRAITS:	AVAILABLE TRAIT ENERGY:	DESCRIPTION OF YOUR ESTIMATED CAPACITY, BASED ON YOUR TRAIT SCORES, TO PERFORM THIS COMPETENCY:
N+	N=	Half Full	Your moderate need for stability suggests that your sensitivity to stress is situational. In some situations, you will react, and in others, remain calm. When temptations to depart from procedures and guidelines emerge, you will need to muster your nervous energy to resist.
E-	E--	Full with Surplus	Your quiet, solitary work style is the perfect accompaniment for following policy and guidelines. Adhering to policy is a fine way to maintain a quiet work atmosphere. Be on the alert, however, for situations in which you need to speak up and challenge the guidelines, lest you or the company suffer.
O-	O-	Full	You tend to be practical with your feet on the ground, seldom engaging in flights of fancy or coming up with innovative work ideas. As a result, you tend to have a respect for the traditional way of doing things, which is consistent with a tendency for adhering to policies and guidelines.
A+	A=	Half Full	Your approach to negotiation appears to be somewhat situational, such that on some occasions you will tend to choose to enforce or adhere to policy, while on others you will choose to defy or change policy in accordance with your views and interests.
C+	C=	Half Full	Your balance of discipline and methodicalness on the one hand, and spontaneity and casualness on the other, suggests that, while you find policy and established procedures in some situations to be helpful and facilitative towards your goals, in some situations you will find the procedures to be a straight jacket and will avoid or attempt to change them.

TRAIT CAPACITY FOR COMPETENCY:

Ambiguity & Paradox, Comfort With

Overall estimated Fit, or capacity for this competency:

THREE (One = Low; Five = Medium; Ten = High)

Interpretation of Fit Score:

Draining

A person who performs this competency well at work:

- Can act even though the details are unresolved
 - Comfortable leaving issues open and waiting for resolution or answers
 - At ease with theory and the unknown
- Howard (00a)*

OPTIMUM TRAITS:	ACTUAL TRAITS:	AVAILABLE TRAIT ENERGY:	DESCRIPTION OF YOUR ESTIMATED CAPACITY, BASED ON YOUR TRAIT SCORES, TO PERFORM THIS COMPETENCY:
N-	N=	 Half Full	Unless you are higher in O, you will occasionally find yourself in situations that lack clarity, that are ambiguous or paradoxical, and will find that, on occasion, this lack of clarity can be stressful, and will feel some urgency in sorting things out.
N1-	N1--	 Full with Surplus	Your moderate level of worrying suggests that some situations that lack clarity will cause you to feel stressed and desirous of pressing for clarity.
N2-	N2++	 Almost Empty	Your emotional antennae appear to be especially sensitive to injustice and conflict, such that ambiguous or paradoxical situations are likely to be a source of angry outbursts.
N3-	N3-	 Full	Your moderately optimistic outlook will usually accept ambiguous and paradoxical situations in the confident hope that things will work out for the best.
N4-	N4++	 Almost Empty	Crises and uncertainties tend to be unsettling for you, so it may not be comfortable for you to live with ambiguous situations that extend for long periods without resolution.
E+	E--	 Almost Empty	Typically, strongly introverted individuals are uncomfortable around situations that are ambiguous or paradoxical. Your extremely solitary nature will typically find uncertainty unsettling, unless other traits suggest otherwise.

TRAIT CAPACITY FOR COMPETENCY:

Ambiguity & Paradox, Comfort With

OPTIMUM TRAITS:	ACTUAL TRAITS:	AVAILABLE TRAIT ENERGY:	DESCRIPTION OF YOUR ESTIMATED CAPACITY, BASED ON YOUR TRAIT SCORES, TO PERFORM THIS COMPETENCY:
E2+	E2--	 + Almost Empty	Your private and solitary nature make it likely that you will be more uncomfortable than others with situations that are ambiguous or paradoxical. Uncertainty is easier to accept with the company of others, but such sociability is not natural for you.
E3+	E3-	 + Running Low	Your preference for a less active work style in favor of a generally more sedentary approach makes it more likely that you will find ambiguous or paradoxical situations less than comfortable. What reserves of energy you have for physical activity could be used to take your mind off of the uncertainties.
O++	O-	 + Running Low	Your overall preference for the status quo, the practical, and the details makes it likely that you are uncomfortable by ambiguous or uncertain situations, such that you tend to feel a need to push towards resolution.
O1+	O1++	 + Full with Surplus	Your extremely active imagination makes it unlikely that you would ever be uncomfortable in ambiguous or paradoxical situations, as you would tend to use the uncertainty as an opportunity to create various possible scenarios. On the other hand, because of your active imagination, it is possible that you could "fear the worst" when things are unclear.
O2++	O2--	 + Almost Empty	Your extremely low score on O2: Complexity strongly suggests that you prefer things simple and clear-cut, and do not wish to be involved in situations characterized by ambiguity and paradox. Your preference for facts over theories, and for depth over breadth, makes more abstract topics less comfortable for you.
O3+	O3--	 + Almost Empty	Your extremely low score on Comfort with Change suggests that your preference for the status quo causes you to prefer things clear-cut and familiar. Hence, you are highly likely to be uncomfortable with the uncertainties typically associated with changes in business processes and priorities.
A4-	A4+	 + Running Low	The more assertive one is, the more one speaks out to express his or her opinions, the easier it is to face ambiguous situations. Holding in one's views and not expressing them makes ambiguous situations more uncomfortable. As you are moderately reserved, uncertainty is likely to make you uncomfortable, unless other traits compensate.

TRAIT CAPACITY FOR COMPETENCY:

Ambition

Overall estimated Fit, or capacity for this competency:

FOUR (One = Low; Five = Medium; Ten = High)

Interpretation of Fit Score:

Draining

A person who performs this competency well at work:

- Has a strong sense of career
- Has a sense of vision and purpose
- Wants to have impact and influence; committed to making a difference

Furnham, Crump, & Whelan (97), Costa & McCrae (92)

OPTIMUM TRAITS:	ACTUAL TRAITS:	AVAILABLE TRAIT ENERGY:	DESCRIPTION OF YOUR ESTIMATED CAPACITY, BASED ON YOUR TRAIT SCORES, TO PERFORM THIS COMPETENCY:
N-	N=	+ Half Full	Ambition builds on a personality that is fearless with nerves of steel, calm in a crisis, and essentially impervious to stress. You tend to be more reactive than that, with some stressful situations being more bothersome than others.
N3-	N3-	+ Full	Ambition also builds on optimism, and you appear to be more optimistic than 2/3 of the workforce.
N4-	N4++	+ Almost Empty	Ambition gets put on hold when the person with ambitions has to take time to recover from crises, emergencies, traumas, or other major sources of stress. Your strong need for taking time to recover from such setbacks or stresses suggests that you will encounter frequent obstacles to your ambitions.
E+	E--	+ Almost Empty	Ambition typically is best supported when the ambitious person is naturally oriented to feel comfortable with, and even drawn towards, the thick of the action, rather than feeling the need to retire to a quiet, private place. You have more need for solitude, which is likely to interfere with your ambitions, unless you define ambitions that intrinsically require such solitude, such as writing or painting.
E3+	E3-	+ Running Low	The fuel that drives ambition is energy level, and you appear to be less physically active (i.e., more sedentary) than 2/3 of the workforce.
E6+	E6--	+ Almost Empty	Tact is the lubricant that paves the way for ambition. Without tact, ambition is likely to run into unwanted, unnecessary obstacles. You appear to be moderately tactful, with the consequence that sometimes you may not be tactful enough, while other times you may be too tactful.

TRAIT CAPACITY FOR COMPETENCY:

Ambition

OPTIMUM TRAITS:	ACTUAL TRAITS:	AVAILABLE TRAIT ENERGY:	DESCRIPTION OF YOUR ESTIMATED CAPACITY, BASED ON YOUR TRAIT SCORES, TO PERFORM THIS COMPETENCY:
O+	O-	 + Running Low	Ambition is typically driven by curiosity and a strong sense of vision, both of which would appear to be less natural for you, as you tend to be more practical with your feet on the ground.
A2-	A2=	 + Half Full	Ambition is commonly driven by persons who are competitive and who do not typically back down from an argument. Your appetite for such competition appears to be situational, with some engagements capturing your competitive spirit and others leaving you unengaged.
A3-	A3-	 + Full	Ambition is typically built on a foundation of pride--pride in one's ideas, abilities, and accomplishments. You are comfortable accepting praise and recognition for your accomplishments, and such pride is fuel for ambition.
A4-	A4+	 + Running Low	Assertiveness--letting there be no doubt about what is on your mind--promotes ambition. It is difficult to achieve your ambitions when your associates do not know your goals. You appear to be more reserved than assertive, keeping your goals, thoughts, and opinions more to yourself, rather than broadcasting them daily to your associates.
C+++	C=	 + Half Full	Discipline, good planning, using methods proved to be effective, clear goals, and doing it right the first time are all essential ingredients for achieving your ambitions. You appear to be somewhat situational with regard to these traits--in some situations showing discipline, for example, and in others, not. Take care to focus your discipline and use of method in areas that will promote your ambitions.

TRAIT CAPACITY FOR COMPETENCY:

Analytical Thinking

Overall estimated Fit, or capacity for this competency:

TWO (One = Low; Five = Medium; Ten = High)

Interpretation of Fit Score:

Outside Comfort Zone

A person who performs this competency well at work:

- Needs to understand and have insight
 - Good at and enjoys solving problems
 - Comfortable and good at formulating strategy
- Furnham, Crump, & Whelan (97)*

OPTIMUM TRAITS:	ACTUAL TRAITS:	AVAILABLE TRAIT ENERGY:	DESCRIPTION OF YOUR ESTIMATED CAPACITY, BASED ON YOUR TRAIT SCORES, TO PERFORM THIS COMPETENCY:
O+	O-	+ Running Low	Analytical thinking is optimally supported by an active curiosity and imagination that is comfortable in the role of finding patterns and solving problems. You tend to be more here-and-now and practical, which supports troubleshooting more than analytical work.
O1+	O1++	+ Full with Surplus	You have an imagination that is more active than that of 93% of the workforce. An active imagination is extremely helpful in trying to analyze large amounts of material in order to find patterns, trends, and so forth.
O2+	O2--	+ Almost Empty	You appear to have a strong preference for working with less complex problems and with more familiar subject matter, rather than working with more complex problems, dealing with new theories, and exploring a variety of fields of knowledge. These latter three provide critical support for analytical thinking.

TRAIT CAPACITY FOR COMPETENCY:

Basic Leadership Orientation

Overall estimated Fit, or capacity for this competency:

FIVE (One = Low; Five = Medium; Ten = High)

Interpretation of Fit Score:

Somewhat Natural

A person who performs this competency well at work:

- Takes responsibility for initiating necessary changes
 - Enjoys taking the role of coordinator, director
 - Can make the tough decisions when necessary
- Furnham, Crump, & Whelan (97), Johnson & Ostendorf (93)*

OPTIMUM TRAITS:	ACTUAL TRAITS:	AVAILABLE TRAIT ENERGY:	DESCRIPTION OF YOUR ESTIMATED CAPACITY, BASED ON YOUR TRAIT SCORES, TO PERFORM THIS COMPETENCY:
N-	N=	Half Full	Leadership depends on the non-anxious presence of the person in charge, especially in a crisis or emergency, with such calmness tending to instill confidence among followers. You appear to be situational in this regard--calm and at ease in some crises and emergencies, and more reactive in others.
N3-	N3-	Full	Leadership builds on an optimistic frame of mind that believes today's losses can lead to tomorrow's wins. You appear to be moderately optimistic.
N4-	N4++	Almost Empty	Resilience--the capacity to bounce back quickly from a crisis, emergency, or period of intense stress, with no or minimal need for recuperation--is a core characteristic of most effective leaders. You appear to be the opposite--requiring considerable time for recuperation after a highly stressful episode.
E++	E--	Almost Empty	Effective leaders must exercise a group of behaviors we refer to as extraversion--enthusiasm, being comfortable around other people, enjoying being in the thick of the action, communicating naturally with others in a variety of ways, taking charge as necessary, and that sort of thing. You appear to have a strong preference for a much more introverted role.
E6+	E6--	Almost Empty	One is more likely to sustain effective leadership if one maintains a tactful posture with one's associates. You appear to be very direct and straightforward with most associates.
E3+	E3-	Running Low	A certain level of energy is required for effective leadership, inasmuch as too sedentary a work style tends to impede necessary communication, such as "management by wandering around (MBWA)", asking questions, ad hoc conferencing, and so forth. You appear to have a moderately low level of activity with a preference for a more sedentary work style.

TRAIT CAPACITY FOR COMPETENCY:

Basic Leadership Orientation

OPTIMUM TRAITS:	ACTUAL TRAITS:	AVAILABLE TRAIT ENERGY:	DESCRIPTION OF YOUR ESTIMATED CAPACITY, BASED ON YOUR TRAIT SCORES, TO PERFORM THIS COMPETENCY:
O+	O-	 + Running Low	Strategic leadership must be comfortable thinking about the future in big picture terms and playing with complex relationships across a wide variety of knowledge areas, thus leading to initiating necessary changes. You appear to be more comfortable with tactical thinking and maintaining the status quo.
A-	A=	 + Half Full	Leaders typically meet with resistance in many forms, and to deal with it, a certain amount of standing your ground is required. Your ability to stand your ground appears to be situational--tough in some situations, less so in others.
A2-	A2=	 + Half Full	While the leader needs to listen to and incorporate the needs, interests, information, and judgment of others, s/he also needs to have sufficient aggressiveness and competitiveness to stand up for what s/he deems to be right, effective, and professional. You appear to be situational in this regard--aggressive and competitive in some situations, and not in others.
A3-	A3-	 + Full	The traditional leader exhibits pride in one's accomplishments. However, in some organizations, a more humble leader is valued, who takes pride more in one's associates and the organization than in self. You appear to demonstrate personal pride to a moderate degree.
A4-	A4+	 + Running Low	Leadership requires one to speak their mind, to let others know their thinking as appropriate, rather than for others to have to second guess you, to "read" your mind. You appear to be somewhat reserved in expressing yourself, leaving occasional doubt as to your way of thinking.
C++	C=	 + Half Full	Leadership requires that one consolidate one's energies around specific priorities, and that one remain conscientiously focused on those priorities. You appear to be situational in this regard--you show such consolidation of energy around some priorities, and not so much around others.
C1++	C1-	 + Running Low	Perfectionism supports leadership by providing high standards, an attention to detail, and a bias for not letting things fall between the cracks. You appear to be the opposite--more casual about standards.
C2++	C2++	 + Full with Surplus	The leader requires well-organized resources in order to accomplish the mission. You appear to be well-organized, and to place a very high value on being well-organized.
C3++	C3--	 + Almost Empty	While not all leaders could be described as ambitious and driven to be #1, certainly many would be described that way. You appear to be comfortable with your current level of achievement.

TRAIT CAPACITY FOR COMPETENCY:

Basic Leadership Orientation

OPTIMUM TRAITS:	ACTUAL TRAITS:	AVAILABLE TRAIT ENERGY:	DESCRIPTION OF YOUR ESTIMATED CAPACITY, BASED ON YOUR TRAIT SCORES, TO PERFORM THIS COMPETENCY:
C4++	C4+	 Full	Leaders typically are able to concentrate on the priority at hand, and to resist being distracted by lesser priorities. You appear to have moderately strong powers of concentration and focus.
C5++	C5-	 Running Low	Methodicalness--having a plan and sticking to it--assists the leader in focusing on priorities and maximizing efficiencies. You appear to be more spontaneous than methodical.

TRAIT CAPACITY FOR COMPETENCY:

Business Acumen

Overall estimated Fit, or capacity for this competency:

SIX (One = Low; Five = Medium; Ten = High)

Interpretation of Fit Score:

Somewhat Natural

A person who performs this competency well at work:

- Maximizes revenue, net income, and cash flow
 - Comfortable containing costs and making collections
 - Uses resources wisely and to advantage
- Furnham, Crump, & Whelan (97)*

OPTIMUM TRAITS:	ACTUAL TRAITS:	AVAILABLE TRAIT ENERGY:	DESCRIPTION OF YOUR ESTIMATED CAPACITY, BASED ON YOUR TRAIT SCORES, TO PERFORM THIS COMPETENCY:
N-	N=	Half Full	Business acumen relies on a cool head and a calm manner that has presence of mind in a crisis. You appear to possess these characteristics.
E+	E--	Almost Empty	In order to support the demands of business, one needs to be a strong communicator, lest resources are wasted because of inadequate control through communication. You appear to have a strong preference for solitude, which makes communication with other people unnatural for you.
O-	O-	Full	Business acumen relies on the natural ability to focus on the details and the here-and-now. You appear to possess these characteristics. Just make sure you consult with more futuristic associates from time to time so that you don't miss valuable opportunities.
A-	A=	Half Full	The ability to manage financial and other business resources is optimally supported by a tendency towards competitiveness, aggressiveness, and a tough protection of the bottom line. These traits appear to be somewhat situational for you, being tough in some circumstances, and not in others. It is important that you muster enough toughness for the priorities that demand it.
C+	C=	Half Full	Drive, and the discipline to push that drive, form an essential ingredient in the successful management of business resources. Your behavior in this regard appears to be situational--focused in some areas of your job, and not in others. Be sure to concentrate the energy you have for focus on the higher priorities of your work.
C1+	C1-	Running Low	You appear to be more casual than perfectionistic in your approach to most business details, accepting "good enough" as your most typical standard. You will need to dig deep on occasion to find the energy to be more of a perfectionist around the higher priorities.

TRAIT CAPACITY FOR COMPETENCY:

Business Acumen

OPTIMUM TRAITS:	ACTUAL TRAITS:	AVAILABLE TRAIT ENERGY:	DESCRIPTION OF YOUR ESTIMATED CAPACITY, BASED ON YOUR TRAIT SCORES, TO PERFORM THIS COMPETENCY:
C5+	C5-		One of the essential ingredients of effective business management is having a proper plan, and then adhering to that plan. You appear to follow your instincts more than a plan--this can be problematic in managing the details and resources of a business.
		Running Low

TRAIT CAPACITY FOR COMPETENCY:

Competitiveness

Overall estimated Fit, or capacity for this competency:

SIX (One = Low; Five = Medium; Ten = High)

Interpretation of Fit Score:

Somewhat Natural

A person who performs this competency well at work:

- Has the courage to take risks
 - Cannot rest until the contest is over
 - Is energized by competition and the need to win
- Yik & Tang (96), Cochran (98)*

OPTIMUM TRAITS:	ACTUAL TRAITS:	AVAILABLE TRAIT ENERGY:	DESCRIPTION OF YOUR ESTIMATED CAPACITY, BASED ON YOUR TRAIT SCORES, TO PERFORM THIS COMPETENCY:
N-	N=	Half Full	While nervous energy can fuel competition, the more natural fuel for competition is to have nerves of steel--a cool head that is unaffected by crisis, rejection, or failure. Your ability to maintain this kind of cool detachment appears to be somewhat situational--calm in some situations, bothered in others.
E+	E--	Almost Empty	Competition is best supported by the tendency in a person to be comfortable in the thick of the action--an outgoing, energetic, take-charge nature. You appear to be have a strong preference for quieter, more solitary situations.
O+	O-	Running Low	Often, the competitive spirit requires risk-taking, imagination, and creative strategizing in order to be more clever than one's competitors. You appear to be somewhat more likely to play it safe, using established methods that have worked in the past.
A-	A=	Half Full	The more concerned one is with one's own agenda and needs, the easier it is to be competitive, and the more likely one will in fact be competitive. Your focus on priorities appears to be situational--sometimes on yours, sometimes on the priorities of others.
A2-	A2=	Half Full	One of the common attributes of the competitive spirit is the tendency to hold one's own in an argument or debate, not to back off after having disagreed, and genuinely enjoying the act of persuading others, of bringing them around to your way of thinking. Your use of these qualities appears to be somewhat situational--persuasive/tenacious in some circumstances, and not in others.
A3-	A3-	Full	Pride in the superiority of one's abilities and one's position are critical ingredients in the formation of the competitive spirit, and you appear to have these qualities to a moderate degree.

TRAIT CAPACITY FOR COMPETENCY:

Competitiveness

OPTIMUM TRAITS:	ACTUAL TRAITS:	AVAILABLE TRAIT ENERGY:	DESCRIPTION OF YOUR ESTIMATED CAPACITY, BASED ON YOUR TRAIT SCORES, TO PERFORM THIS COMPETENCY:
C+	C=	 Half Full	A competitive spirit without the discipline, drive, and focus to follow-through is lacking critical fuel. Your level for these qualities appears to be situational--you are focused in some situations, not in others.

TRAIT CAPACITY FOR COMPETENCY:

Creativity

Overall estimated Fit, or capacity for this competency:

FOUR (One = Low; Five = Medium; Ten = High)

Interpretation of Fit Score:

Draining

A person who performs this competency well at work:

- Personally adds value to any task
 - Is innovative and resourceful; inventive
 - Can dream up new marketing and other business strategies
- Costa & McCrae (92)*

OPTIMUM TRAITS:	ACTUAL TRAITS:	AVAILABLE TRAIT ENERGY:	DESCRIPTION OF YOUR ESTIMATED CAPACITY, BASED ON YOUR TRAIT SCORES, TO PERFORM THIS COMPETENCY:
N3-	N3-	 Full	Creativity is best supported by a tendency towards optimism, in that a more optimistic outlook is more comfortable with the kinds of illusions and inventions required in the flights of fancy away from the constraints of the real world that creativity demands. You appear to have a moderate amount of such optimism.
E+	E--	 Almost Empty	While it is not necessary to be more extraverted in order to be more creative, it helps, especially in having the natural energy and outgoingness necessary to communicate and expand on your ideas. You appear to be more solitary than outgoing.
E3+	E3-	 Running Low	Your energy level is moderately low, and accordingly you prefer a work mode in which you are able to be sedentary most of the time. You like desk work (or something similarly stationary). This lower level of activity can make it more unnatural to be on the lookout for creative insights and unusual resources.
E5+	E5-	 Running Low	Trust in others tends to bring out their creative energy. You appear to be more skeptical than trusting.
O++	O-	 Running Low	Clearly, the overall "Originality" score is the driving force of creativity. This composite score includes everything from vividness of imagination through comfort with change. You appear to be more comfortable with things as they are, with a lower need or interest in being creative and original.
O1+	O1++	 Full with Surplus	The capacities to imagine things that do not exist, to fantasize about the future, and to mentally play with the possibilities, are all crucial to being creative and innovative in the workplace, and you appear to have these capacities to an extreme degree.

TRAIT CAPACITY FOR COMPETENCY:

Creativity

OPTIMUM TRAITS:	ACTUAL TRAITS:	AVAILABLE TRAIT ENERGY:	DESCRIPTION OF YOUR ESTIMATED CAPACITY, BASED ON YOUR TRAIT SCORES, TO PERFORM THIS COMPETENCY:
O2+	O2--	 + Almost Empty	A certain degree of comfort with complex theories and problems across a wide variety of subject areas provides a supportive basis for resourcefulness in dreaming up new ideas. You appear to be much more comfortable with simpler, less complex subject matter dealing with a narrower range of content, preferring depth to breadth of knowledge.
O3+	O3--	 + Almost Empty	Comfort with change, including re-engineering, redesigning, and other forms of rethinking workplace processes, are critical supports for the kind of creativity necessary for innovation and meaningful change. In general you are more comfortable with the status quo, and are a tough sell on many change recommendations.
C-	C=	 + Half Full	As a general rule, creativity is associated with spontaneity, parallel processing, and the ability to be comfortable jumping from one idea or task to another, while tight organization, methodicalness, and discipline tend to put a lid on innovative thinking. Sometimes you are spontaneous, other times you are more planful and organized--it is situational, dependent on the context.
C2-	C2++	 + Almost Empty	The stronger your need for organization and neatness, the more unnatural it is to be creative, resourceful, and innovative. You appear to have an extremely strong need for being organized.
C5-	C5-	 + Full	In many ways, methodicalness is the enemy of creativity. Well, if not the enemy, at least not its midwife. Creativity is to method as night is to day--one comes before the other, and both are necessary, but it is nearly impossible to have both at the same time. You appear to be more spontaneous than methodical, which should support any of your efforts at being creative or innovative.

TRAIT CAPACITY FOR COMPETENCY:

Customer Service Orientation

Overall estimated Fit, or capacity for this competency:

SIX (One = Low; Five = Medium; Ten = High)

Interpretation of Fit Score:

Somewhat Natural

A person who performs this competency well at work:

- Is driven by the desire to serve the customer; focused on customer needs
 - Responds as promptly as possible to customer needs and requests
 - Knows customers, alliances, and partners well and supports them in appropriate ways
- Howard (00a,b), Kyl-Heku & Buss (96), King (95)*

OPTIMUM TRAITS:	ACTUAL TRAITS:	AVAILABLE TRAIT ENERGY:	DESCRIPTION OF YOUR ESTIMATED CAPACITY, BASED ON YOUR TRAIT SCORES, TO PERFORM THIS COMPETENCY:
N+	N=	Half Full	Service orientation is enhanced by a temperament that is reactive to the needs of the customer, rather than laid back and calm. You appear to be situational in this regard--reactive in some situations, and not in others.
N1+	N1--	Almost Empty	Effective service orientation is typically characterized by a temperament that worries about the customer being served properly. You appear to be extremely calm about things--i.e., definitely not a worrier.
N2+	N2++	Full with Surplus	Effective service orientation is typically characterized by a temperament that gets angry when the organization does not do right by the customer--i.e., a true-customer advocate. You appear to have a strong tendency towards anger.
N3+	N3-	Running Low	Effective customer service work typically involves a more pessimistic temperament, insofar as the service provider needs to assume the worst and take steps to overcome it. You appear to be somewhat optimistic.
N4+	N4++	Full with Surplus	Effective customer service workers tend to take some time to get over a crisis, inasmuch as they don't forget and move on--rather, they continue to worry and insure that the customer is well-served. You appear to take a considerable amount of time and energy to get over a crisis.
E+	E--	Almost Empty	Service orientation requires an outgoing temperament that is eager to communicate with and take action on behalf of the customer--i.e., an extraverted temperament. You appear to be strongly introverted.

E5+	E5-	 Running Low	Trust of others supports service orientation by making it easier to take the side of the customer. You appear to be somewhat skeptical.
A++	A=	 Half Full	The natural trait for service orientation is high accommodation--placing the needs and interests of others first, and keeping them in the foreground. You appear to be situational in this regard--accommodating towards some associates about some things and not towards others.
A1+	A1+	 Full	To the degree that one naturally puts others' needs first, one tends to find that a service orientation is more natural, easier. You appear to place a moderate priority on others' needs.
A2+	A2=	 Half Full	In a disagreement, persons with a high service orientation tend to defer to others' points of view. You appear to be situational in this regard--deferential towards some, and not towards others.
A4+	A4+	 Full	Effective service orientation is typically characterized by persons who are comfortable allowing the customer to take center stage and remain there, with the service provider remaining more reserved. You appear to be moderately reserved.
C-	C=	 Half Full	Effective service providers typically need to be parallel processors who can jump from hot spot to hot spot, juggling lots of issues. You appear to be situational in this regard--comfortable juggling multiple tasks at some times, and preferring a focus on one task at others.
C2-	C2++	 Almost Empty	A high need for organization tends to interfere with effective service orientation, inasmuch as the constant need to stay organized can impede the kind of attentiveness that a customer may require. You appear to have a very high need or priority for keeping organized.
C3-	C3--	 Full with Surplus	Personal ambition tends to interfere with service orientation by putting personal goals over that of one's customers. You appear to have very low needs for high achievement.

TRAIT CAPACITY FOR COMPETENCY:

Decision-Making Skills

Overall estimated Fit, or capacity for this competency:

FOUR (One = Low; Five = Medium; Ten = High)

Interpretation of Fit Score:

Draining

A person who performs this competency well at work:

- A reputation for high quality decisions
 - Does not put off decisions inappropriately
 - Seldom changes mind--decisions that stick
- Mohr & Howard (99)*

OPTIMUM TRAITS:	ACTUAL TRAITS:	AVAILABLE TRAIT ENERGY:	DESCRIPTION OF YOUR ESTIMATED CAPACITY, BASED ON YOUR TRAIT SCORES, TO PERFORM THIS COMPETENCY:
N-	N=	 Half Full	Sound decision making is best supported by a nature that is calm and rational even during the most stressful times. Your ability to remain calm and rational appears to be situational--in some stressful situations you remain calm, while in others you tend to feel the stress and pressure of the moment.
N1--	N1--	 Full with Surplus	While worrying helps insure that one will consider all aspects of a decision, like having a "conscience," the absence of worry in the form of a calm, rational frame of mind insures that all considerations in a decision situation will be evaluated more objectively. You have this calm, cool frame of mind pretty much all of the time.
N2-	N2++	 Almost Empty	Displays of temper and anger shape decision situations with an intensity that does not support objective, rational decision making. Such temper and intensity is likely a daily occurrence with you, as you find it extremely unnatural to remain calm, at ease, and even-tempered in situations when you feel angry.
N3--	N3-	 Full	An optimistic turn of mind that feels in control of events and confident in one's abilities provides optimum support for making effective decisions. You appear to have these qualities to a moderate degree.
N4--	N4++	 Almost Empty	Resilience--the capacity of remaining calm in a crisis and requiring no time to recover from stressful episodes--is the bedrock of sound decision-making. You appear to lack such resilience, in that you tend to be highly distraught in a crisis, and require significant time to recover from stressful episodes.
E+	E--	 Almost Empty	Decision making is optimized when the decision maker is comfortable soliciting information and opinion from all persons with knowledge relevant to the decision. You are highly introverted, suggesting that you have a strong preference for solitude and minimizing your time in the thick of the action, making it much less natural for you to obtain such information and opinion.

TRAIT CAPACITY FOR COMPETENCY:

Decision-Making Skills

OPTIMUM TRAITS:	ACTUAL TRAITS:	AVAILABLE TRAIT ENERGY:	DESCRIPTION OF YOUR ESTIMATED CAPACITY, BASED ON YOUR TRAIT SCORES, TO PERFORM THIS COMPETENCY:
E1+	E1+	 Full	A warm, upbeat approach tends to elicit maximum participation from associates who are critical to good decision making. You appear to have such an engaging personality.
E3+	E3-	 Running Low	A higher energy and activity level is associated with an unrelenting effort to chase down the information necessary for making effective decisions. You appear to exhibit a more sedentary style, with less interest in staying physically active.
O+	O-	 Running Low	Effective decision making is typically based on having the most complete information available. The higher the O score, the more likely one is to bring a wider scope of information to bear on a specific decision. Your low score on O suggests that you tend to bring a narrow scope to the table.
O2+	O2--	 Almost Empty	Many decisions require the decision maker to handle complex issues covering a myriad of interrelated domains. Your extremely low score on O2: Complexity suggests that you strongly prefer simpler, more straightforward issues.
A-	A=	 Half Full	High quality decisions are predicated on getting the maximum amount of information on the table, which in turn requires a willingness to engage others on all issues, not shying away from any persons or challenges. Your tendency to engage appears to be somewhat situational--engaging in some situations, not in others.
A4--	A4+	 Running Low	Stating one's opinions readily and unequivocally is helpful in getting your insights into the decision-making process. You appear to be more reluctant to state your opinion than others.
C+++	C=	 Half Full	Keeping a clear focus on one's goals makes for more effective decision making, as goal clarity helps to identify irrelevant decision criteria and options. You appear to be more focused at some times that at others, or more focused on some goals than other goals.
C1+	C1-	 Running Low	A tendency toward perfectionism supports decision making by attempting to cover all aspects of a decision situation, so that the decision is based on as complete a set of information as possible. You appear to prefer a more casual approach, with less emphasis placed on thoroughness.
C2+	C2++	 Full with Surplus	The state of being well-organized supports decision making by making it easier to retrieve relevant information quickly. You appear to be very well organized.

TRAIT CAPACITY FOR COMPETENCY:

Decision-Making Skills

OPTIMUM TRAITS:	ACTUAL TRAITS:	AVAILABLE TRAIT ENERGY:	DESCRIPTION OF YOUR ESTIMATED CAPACITY, BASED ON YOUR TRAIT SCORES, TO PERFORM THIS COMPETENCY:
C3+	C3--	 + Almost Empty	The drive towards high achievement provides incentive for using effective decision-making processes--one cannot typically realize one's goals when decisions are poorly made. Your extremely low level of drive likely leads you to place a much lower priority on effective decision making.
C4+	C4+	 + Full	The natural tendency to concentrate on the task at hand without being easily distracted reduces the chance that decisions will be adversely affected by a lack of focus on the decision-making process. You appear to have such powers of concentration.
C5+	C5-	 + Running Low	Effective decision making is optimally supported by employing systematic methods. You appear to be more spontaneous in your approach--being methodical doesn't come natural for you.

TRAIT CAPACITY FOR COMPETENCY:

Delegation

Overall estimated Fit, or capacity for this competency:

FOUR (One = Low; Five = Medium; Ten = High)

Interpretation of Fit Score:

Draining

A person who performs this competency well at work:

- Is comfortable directing and controlling the work of others
 - Has the patience to provide the necessary information or other support when delegating
 - Is courageous in confronting others when necessary
- Mohr & Howard (99)*

OPTIMUM TRAITS:	ACTUAL TRAITS:	AVAILABLE TRAIT ENERGY:	DESCRIPTION OF YOUR ESTIMATED CAPACITY, BASED ON YOUR TRAIT SCORES, TO PERFORM THIS COMPETENCY:
N-	N=	 Half Full	Effective delegation is best supported by a calm state of mind that is patient with the delegatee. You appear to be situational in this respect--calm, patient, and rational in some situations, and more reactive in other situations.
N1-	N1--	 Full with Surplus	A worrying frame of mind tends to adversely affect the performance of many delegates. You appear to be the extreme opposite of a worrier--extremely at ease.
N3-	N3-	 Full	An optimistic outlook engenders confidence in the delegatee. You appear to be moderately optimistic.
N4-	N4++	 Almost Empty	Resilience--the capacity to bounce back quickly from a crisis or other stressful episode--supports the delegatee by providing a reliably calm supervisory backdrop against which to work. You appear to be highly reactive, needing substantial time to recover from such stressful episodes.
E+	E--	 Almost Empty	Effective delegation requires ease of communication between the delegator and the delegatee. Your extremely low score on extraversion suggests that you are normally rather reserved and are likely uncomfortable engaging in steady communication with others.
E1+	E1+	 Full	One of the qualities that appears to support effective delegation is having a warm and enthusiastic approach in working with people. You appear to be moderately enthusiastic.

TRAIT CAPACITY FOR COMPETENCY:

Delegation

OPTIMUM TRAITS:	ACTUAL TRAITS:	AVAILABLE TRAIT ENERGY:	DESCRIPTION OF YOUR ESTIMATED CAPACITY, BASED ON YOUR TRAIT SCORES, TO PERFORM THIS COMPETENCY:
E2+	E2--	+ Almost Empty	A gregarious nature supports delegation by encouraging the delegator to be accessible, to monitor, and to engage in adequate communication with the delegatee to get the job done properly. You appear to have an extremely solitary nature.
E3+	E3-	+ Running Low	The more energy a delegator has, the more natural it is for him/her to give the orientation, training, and follow-up that is necessary for the delegatee to have sufficient information and resources to get the job done properly. You appear to have a moderate preference for sedentary work over keeping physically active.
O+	O-	+ Running Low	Open-mindedness supports effective delegation by being sensitive to the delegatee's unique needs, the context of the situation, and any special or non-standard features of the task that is delegated. You appear to be less open-minded (i.e., more comfortable with the traditional way) than most.
O1+	O1++	+ Full with Surplus	Imagination supports effective delegation by enabling the delegator to "read between the lines" and identify needs in the delegatee or the situation that a less imaginative person might miss. You appear to be extremely imaginative.
O2+	O2--	+ Almost Empty	Being comfortable with the complex and theoretical means that a delegator has the necessary patience and outlook to help the delegatee when problem solving is necessary. You appear to be extremely uncomfortable with such complexity, with a strong preference for the simpler.
A-	A=	+ Half Full	It is important in delegation that the delegator hold the delegatee accountable to appropriate standards. The more accommodating the delegator is, the more likely that such standards could be unenforced. Your tendency to be accommodating appears to be situational--accommodating in some situations, and unaccommodating in others..
A4--	A4+	+ Running Low	The delegator must communicate effectively, and the delegatee should not have to read the mind of the delegator. Hence, delegation is more effective when the delegator speaks his or her mind freely without holding back (while being appropriately tactful, of course). You appear to be moderately reserved--less assertive and expressive than most.
C+	C=	+ Half Full	Delegation is most effective when it is supported by focus and follow-through on the part of the delegator. You appear to be situational in your focus: good follow-through on some tasks, while more inattentive to follow-through on others.

TRAIT CAPACITY FOR COMPETENCY:

Delegation

OPTIMUM TRAITS:	ACTUAL TRAITS:	AVAILABLE TRAIT ENERGY:	DESCRIPTION OF YOUR ESTIMATED CAPACITY, BASED ON YOUR TRAIT SCORES, TO PERFORM THIS COMPETENCY:
C1+	C1-	 Running Low	A tendency towards perfectionism insures that delegation is accompanied by attention to details during orientation and monitoring phases with adherence to high standards. You appear to be casual with regard to attention to detail and adherence to high standards.
C2+	C2++	 Full with Surplus	When delegating a task, it helps to have materials, timelines, authorities, and other resources well organized, or at least to have clear thoughts on how such items should be organized. You appear to have an extremely high penchant for organization.
C3+	C3--	 Almost Empty	Drive and dedication to one's goals instills in the delegatee an appreciation for the importance of the task at hand. You appear to have extremely low drive, being comfortable with the status quo.
C4+	C4+	 Full	The more easily distracted one is, the less likely one will be to properly orient and monitor the delegatee. You appear to be moderately difficult to distract, i.e., you concentrate on the task at hand.
C5+	C5-	 Running Low	The more methodical one is, the more likely the delegatee will be thoroughly oriented and consistently monitored. You appear to be somewhat spontaneous and free-wheeling in your approach to most tasks.

OPTIMUM TRAITS:	ACTUAL TRAITS:	AVAILABLE TRAIT ENERGY:	DESCRIPTION OF YOUR ESTIMATED CAPACITY, BASED ON YOUR TRAIT SCORES, TO PERFORM THIS COMPETENCY:
N-	N=	Half Full	An rational temperament supports personnel development by instilling calmness in others, confidence in the way others see themselves, and increases trust in how they see your ability to be helpful. Your calmness appears to be situational--rational in some situations, and more reactive in others.
N3-	N3-	Full	An optimistic outlook communicates your positive expectations for the personnel whom you are trying to develop. You appear to be moderately optimistic.
E+	E--	Almost Empty	A generally outgoing nature (that finds it natural to be around people and where the action is) supports personnel development by keeping you accessible to those in need of development. You appear to be much more solitary, strongly preferring quiet to being around all the action.
E1+	E1+	Full	A warm and enthusiastic demeanor supports the development of personnel by making the experience more enjoyable. You appear to have a moderately warm disposition.
E2+	E2--	Almost Empty	The more gregarious the developer of personnel, the more likely one will feel comfortable approaching him/her and getting the necessary resources, advice, and so forth, to accomplish the development goals. You appear to be extremely solitary with a natural leaning for spending your time and energy in a solitary manner, typically away from other people and activity.
E3+	E3-	Running Low	The higher the energy and activity level of those who develop people, the more likely they will visit those being developed for the purpose of monitoring, advising, and serving as a resource as needed. You appear to have a moderately low activity level, with a preference for sedentary work.

TRAIT CAPACITY FOR COMPETENCY:

Development of Personnel

OPTIMUM TRAITS:	ACTUAL TRAITS:	AVAILABLE TRAIT ENERGY:	DESCRIPTION OF YOUR ESTIMATED CAPACITY, BASED ON YOUR TRAIT SCORES, TO PERFORM THIS COMPETENCY:
E5+	E5-	 + Running Low	Trust supports the development of personnel delegation by instilling confidence and a sense of independence in those being developed. You appear to be more skeptical than trusting.
O+	O-	 + Running Low	Imagination, open-mindedness towards a variety of issues, and comfort with change support people development by disposing the developer towards being a natural resource for a variety of situations, people, and needs.. You appear to be more down-to-earth with a preference for the status quo.
A++	A=	 + Half Full	The more accommodating one is, the more likely one is to buy into and support the development goals of others. You appear to be situational in this regard-- accommodating with some people and issues and not with others.
A1+	A1+	 + Full	The more oriented one is towards supporting, encouraging, and assisting others in meeting their own needs and priorities, the more likely one is able to serve as a resource in people development. You appear to be moderately focused on others' priorities with a desire to please them.
A2+	A2=	 + Half Full	In supporting development of personnel, it helps to be oriented towards finding harmony and resolution of issues, rather than maintaining an argumentative or competitive stance. You appear to be situational in your peacemaking orientation, in that you seek harmony in some situations while maintaining a more competitive or argumentative engagement in others.
A3+	A3-	 + Running Low	In the process of developing personnel, an attitude of humility and genuine recognition of the achievement of others is extremely helpful. You appear more likely to seek acknowledgement for yourself than to point towards the accomplishments of others.
A4-	A4+	 + Running Low	Direct and natural communication is essential in developing other people, for giving instruction, feedback, and so forth. You appear to be more reserved, with a tendency to keep your opinions to yourself.
C1+	C1-	 + Running Low	A perfectionist tendency contributes to personnel development through continually refining, polishing, and advocating for performance mastery. You appear to be more casual about standards than perfectionistic.
C3+	C3--	 + Almost Empty	A strong will to achieve supports personnel development by providing energy around getting maximum contribution of individuals towards your unit's goals. You appear much more comfortable with your levels of achievement--much less ambitious than others.

OPTIMUM TRAITS:	ACTUAL TRAITS:	AVAILABLE TRAIT ENERGY:	DESCRIPTION OF YOUR ESTIMATED CAPACITY, BASED ON YOUR TRAIT SCORES, TO PERFORM THIS COMPETENCY:
N2-	N2++	Almost Empty	Stress often causes an individual to delay, discontinue, or pay imperfect attention to the task at hand. You appear to be highly susceptible to stressful influences.
N3-	N3-	Full	Optimism supports follow-through by providing confidence in a successful outcome of the task at hand, while pessimism often prevents or interferes with follow-through by clouding the task with thoughts of adverse outcomes. You appear to be moderately optimistic.
N4-	N4++	Almost Empty	A calm, rational temperament supports follow-through by maintaining maximal function of the cerebral cortex during and after crises and emergencies, and not falling under the influence of the so-called negative emotions. You appear to have a highly reactive temperament.
O-	O-	Full	Follow-through is easiest for a temperament that is comfortable with the status quo. You appear to be a supporter of the tried and true ways of doing things.
O1--	O1++	Almost Empty	The very essence of follow-through is paying attention to the here-and-now, and not being distracted by imagination, novelty, and off-task issues. You appear to be extremely creative.
O2--	O2--	Full with Surplus	Follow-through is most natural for persons who prefer simplicity and depth of knowledge, rather than complexity and breadth of knowledge. You appear to have a very strong preference for simplicity and a narrower focus.

TRAIT CAPACITY FOR COMPETENCY:

Follow Through

OPTIMUM TRAITS:	ACTUAL TRAITS:	AVAILABLE TRAIT ENERGY:	DESCRIPTION OF YOUR ESTIMATED CAPACITY, BASED ON YOUR TRAIT SCORES, TO PERFORM THIS COMPETENCY:
A1+	A1+	 Full	Attentiveness to the demands of good follow-through is most natural for the temperament that naturally focuses on the needs of others and takes highest pleasure in being of service. You appear to find such a service orientation moderately natural.
A3+	A3-	 Running Low	A humble disposition that deflects praise is optimal for follow-through, as a proud temperament can lead to cutting corners and premature closure. You appear to be moderately proud.
A4+	A4+	 Full	A talkative, assertive manner can interfere with follow-through, while a more reserved temperament tends to make focus on the details more natural. You appear to be moderately reserved.
C+	C=	 Half Full	Focus is the fuel that energizes follow-through, with distractibility making such attention to detail difficult and error-prone. You appear to be situational in this regard--focused in some areas, and distractible in others.
C1+	C1-	 Running Low	Perfectionism naturally drives follow-through. You appear to be the opposite--more comfortable with cutting corners and being casual about the details.
C2+++	C2++	 Full with Surplus	The well-organized person is least likely to permit things to fall between the cracks, and you appear to be extremely well-organized.
C3++	C3--	 Almost Empty	The ambitious temperament is more likely to value follow-through, especially as it relates to advancing one's goal attainment. You appear to be extremely unconcerned about high achievement.
C4+++	C4+	 Full	Serial processors--persons who prefer concentrating on one task and completing it before beginning a new one--tend to find follow-through more natural and easier to accomplish. You appear to be moderately prone to serial processing.
C5++	C5-	 Running Low	Follow-through is most likely to happen with persons who are methodical by nature. You appear to prefer a more spontaneous, less methodical, approach.

TRAIT CAPACITY FOR COMPETENCY:

Future Orientation/Visionary Outlook

Overall estimated Fit, or capacity for this competency:

FOUR (One = Low; Five = Medium; Ten = High)

Interpretation of Fit Score:

Draining

A person who performs this competency well at work:

- Prefers thinking strategically to thinking tactically
 - Naturally considers the downstream implications of present day decisions
 - Dreams about the possibilities for future products, markets, and methods
- Howard (00b)*

OPTIMUM TRAITS:	ACTUAL TRAITS:	AVAILABLE TRAIT ENERGY:	DESCRIPTION OF YOUR ESTIMATED CAPACITY, BASED ON YOUR TRAIT SCORES, TO PERFORM THIS COMPETENCY:
N3-	N3-	Full	It is the natural tendency of the optimist to think in futuristic and strategic terms. You appear to be moderately optimistic.
E1+	E1+	Full	Warmth and enthusiasm tend to be associated with energy directed at looking towards the future. You appear to be moderately enthusiastic.
E3+	E3-	Running Low	The more energetic and physically active one is at work, the more likely one is to engage in thinking about the future. You appear to prefer a more sedentary approach to work.
O++	O-	Running Low	Orientation towards the future is optimally based on a disposition that is open to new experiences. You appear to have a preference for staying with things the way they are.
O1+	O1++	Full with Surplus	A vivid and active imagination naturally tends to focus on the future and to envision possibilities. You appear to have an extremely active imagination.
O2+	O2--	Almost Empty	The more comfortable one is with complexity and theory across a variety of subject areas, the more likely one will be comfortable thinking about the future and developing strategy. You appear to be much more comfortable with mastering the in-depth details of a narrower range of subjects.

TRAIT CAPACITY FOR COMPETENCY:

Future Orientation/Visionary Outlook

OPTIMUM TRAITS:	ACTUAL TRAITS:	AVAILABLE TRAIT ENERGY:	DESCRIPTION OF YOUR ESTIMATED CAPACITY, BASED ON YOUR TRAIT SCORES, TO PERFORM THIS COMPETENCY:
O3+	O3--	 + Almost Empty	Some people just naturally think in terms of how things could be done differently, and this clearly supports visionary thinking. You appear to strongly prefer the status quo, to advocate for preserving things the way they are.
A1+	A1+	 + Full	The more one tends to focus on others' needs, the more natural it is to be open to envisioning future possibilities. You appear to be moderately focused on others' needs.
A4-	A4+	 + Running Low	Persons who speak their opinions without reserve tend to naturally become involved in thinking about the future. You appear to be more reserved than assertive.
C+	C=	 + Half Full	The degree to which one is able to focus on goals and to resist distractions typically requires downstream thinking that forces one to be future-oriented. You appear to be situational in this regard--focused and disciplined around some goals, and not so much around others.
C1+	C1-	 + Running Low	The perfectionist in us typically causes us to consider future requirements, lest our plans not be perfectly executed due to failure to prepare properly in advance. You appear to be more casual about standards and details, and less perfectionistic.
C3+	C3--	 + Almost Empty	The greater one's drive and will to achieve, the more necessary it is to think downstream and develop a vision. You appear to be much more comfortable with your current level of achievement, with no ambitious urges propelling you towards greater things.

TRAIT CAPACITY FOR COMPETENCY:

Humor

Overall estimated Fit, or capacity for this competency:

FOUR (One = Low; Five = Medium; Ten = High)

Interpretation of Fit Score:

Draining

A person who performs this competency well at work:

- Can laugh at self from time to time
 - Shows sensitivity towards others in exercising sense of humor
 - Can be appropriately playful and spontaneous
- Forabosco & Ruch (94), Howard (00a,b)*

OPTIMUM TRAITS:	ACTUAL TRAITS:	AVAILABLE TRAIT ENERGY:	DESCRIPTION OF YOUR ESTIMATED CAPACITY, BASED ON YOUR TRAIT SCORES, TO PERFORM THIS COMPETENCY:
N3---	N3-	Full	An optimistic worldview supports a sense of humor by enabling one to shrug off disappointment and not take things too seriously in general. You appear to be moderately optimistic in your outlook.
E++	E--	Almost Empty	An outgoing personality that is comfortable holding forth in the thick of the action tends to naturally engage in appropriate humor. You appear to be much more introverted.
E1+	E1+	Full	A warm and enthusiastic manner serves a sense of humor by making it more natural to smile, to laugh, and to be generally responsive to others' behavior. You appear to be moderately warm and enthusiastic.
E2++	E2--	Almost Empty	Humor tends to be characteristic of persons who are naturally sociable and who enjoy spending time around other people. You appear to be much more private and retiring than sociable.
E3++	E3-	Running Low	A sense of humor typically accompanies a temperament that is active and energetic. You appear to be more sedentary than physically active.
O+	O-	Running Low	A spirit of openness to new experiences and ideas makes it more likely that one will develop a robust sense of humor. You appear to be more reticent towards accepting change and new experiences.

TRAIT CAPACITY FOR COMPETENCY:

Humor

OPTIMUM TRAITS:	ACTUAL TRAITS:	AVAILABLE TRAIT ENERGY:	DESCRIPTION OF YOUR ESTIMATED CAPACITY, BASED ON YOUR TRAIT SCORES, TO PERFORM THIS COMPETENCY:
O1+	O1++	 Full with Surplus	A vivid imagination tends to be fertile ground for generating and appreciating humor in its many forms. You appear to have an extremely vivid imagination.
O2+	O2--	 Almost Empty	Comfort living in the world of theory and complexity makes it more likely that one will exhibit a sense of humor that spans a broad range of topics and situations. You appear to be uncomfortable around theory and complexity, strongly preferring application to theory, simplicity to complexity.
A1+	A1+	 Full	A natural inclination to be more attentive and accepting of others' needs makes it more likely that your sense of humor will show interpersonal sensitivity, and that you will appreciate others' humor. You appear to have a moderately strong tendency to defer to others' needs.
A4--	A4+	 Running Low	Clearly, persons with a strong sense of humor will also tend to be assertive and speak their minds readily--you don't have to read their minds. You appear to prefer holding your thoughts to yourself.
C-	C=	 Half Full	A sense of humor tends to flow naturally from someone who is flexible, easily distracted, and not overly focused on attaining goals. You appear to be more flexible in some situations, and not in others.
C5-	C5-	 Full	Spontaneity is the very soul of humor, and you appear to be moderately spontaneous.

TRAIT CAPACITY FOR COMPETENCY:

Independently, Comfort Working

Overall estimated Fit, or capacity for this competency:

FIVE (One = Low; Five = Medium; Ten = High)

Interpretation of Fit Score:

Somewhat Natural

A person who performs this competency well at work:

- Comfortable working alone when necessary
- Does not require close supervision
- Does not need others to provide structure

Johnson & Ostendorf (93), Barrick & Mount (93), Bigazzi, Kello, & Marciano (99)

OPTIMUM TRAITS:	ACTUAL TRAITS:	AVAILABLE TRAIT ENERGY:	DESCRIPTION OF YOUR ESTIMATED CAPACITY, BASED ON YOUR TRAIT SCORES, TO PERFORM THIS COMPETENCY:
N-	N=	Half Full	Working independent--as in alone, without supervision, and possibly without structure--is more natural for a temperament that is typically calm, rational, and optimistic. You appear to be situational in this regard--more calm and optimistic in some situations, less so in others.
E+	E--	Almost Empty	More extraverted temperaments seem to be able to work without supervision and structure more naturally. You appear to be extremely introverted.
O++	O-	Running Low	One of the obstacles to working independently is the absence of interest in the many different aspects of work. Your low O score suggests that you have a somewhat narrower range of interests, preferring depth to breadth.
A-	A=	Half Full	Independence is associated with having confidence in one's own ways of doing things, and not always having to check with others about how to proceed. Your confidence is situational--more confident in certain aspects of the work, and less so in other aspects.
C+	C=	Half Full	Persons working independently need to be able to resist distractions and to naturally focus on goals. Your focus appears to be situational--more focused and disciplined in some areas of your work, and less so in other areas.

TRAIT CAPACITY FOR COMPETENCY:

Informing Others

Overall estimated Fit, or capacity for this competency:

FOUR (One = Low; Five = Medium; Ten = High)

Interpretation of Fit Score:

Draining

A person who performs this competency well at work:

- Passes on information to co-workers
 - Avoids power games involving holding certain information privately
 - Takes pride in well-informed associates
- Howard (00a)*

OPTIMUM TRAITS:	ACTUAL TRAITS:	AVAILABLE TRAIT ENERGY:	DESCRIPTION OF YOUR ESTIMATED CAPACITY, BASED ON YOUR TRAIT SCORES, TO PERFORM THIS COMPETENCY:
N3-	N3-	Full	Pessimism tends to discourage providing others with information for fear of misuse or misunderstanding, while optimism encourages providing such information. You appear to be moderately optimistic.
E+	E--	Almost Empty	A naturally outgoing disposition typically finds it more natural to share information with others. You appear to be much more reserved than outgoing.
E1++	E1+	Full	A certain level of enthusiasm and outgoing warmth tends to support the natural sharing of information with others. You appear to be moderately enthusiastic.
E2+	E2--	Almost Empty	The more comfortable one is at meeting and greeting other people --in short, sociable and gregarious, the more natural it is to keep them provided with current and necessary information. You appear to be much more solitary than gregarious.
E3+	E3-	Running Low	The more sedentary one is, the less natural it is to keep others informed; the more physically active one is, the more natural it is to keep others informed, as in MBWA (Management By Wandering Around). You appear to prefer a more sedentary work style.
E5+	E5-	Running Low	Distrust tends to make one withhold information from associates, while trust tends to encourage the flow and release of information. You appear to be moderately skeptical.

TRAIT CAPACITY FOR COMPETENCY:

Informing Others

OPTIMUM TRAITS:	ACTUAL TRAITS:	AVAILABLE TRAIT ENERGY:	DESCRIPTION OF YOUR ESTIMATED CAPACITY, BASED ON YOUR TRAIT SCORES, TO PERFORM THIS COMPETENCY:
O+	O-	 Running Low	A natural curiosity coupled with an openness to new ideas tends to encourage the flow of information. You appear to prefer the status quo, to be comfortable with things the way they are.
O2+	O2--	 Almost Empty	A comfort with complexity and wide-ranging interests in different kinds of knowledge makes it more likely that an individual will be disposed towards maintaining a free flow of information with associates. You appear to have a strong preference for simpler problems and a narrower range of knowledge.
A1+	A1+	 Full	A natural interest in serving the needs of others lends itself to keeping other associates well-informed. You appear to be moderately concerned about serving others' needs.
A4-	A4+	 Running Low	A tendency to be assertive and to readily express opinions clearly supports the daily flow of information with associates. You appear to have a tendency to hold your opinions to yourself.
C1+	C1-	 Running Low	A tendency towards perfectionism tends to support the flow of information with associates because of a desire to leave no i's undotted, no t's uncrossed. You appear to be more casual about standards, accepting less than perfect results.

TRAIT CAPACITY FOR COMPETENCY:

Innovation, Comfort With

Overall estimated Fit, or capacity for this competency:

FOUR (One = Low; Five = Medium; Ten = High)

Interpretation of Fit Score:

Draining

A person who performs this competency well at work:

- Welcomes improvements on a small or large scale
 - Seeks a better way
 - Lives and breathes continual improvement
- Furnham, Crump, & Whelan (97), McDaniel (92), Costa & McCrae (92)*

OPTIMUM TRAITS:	ACTUAL TRAITS:	AVAILABLE TRAIT ENERGY:	DESCRIPTION OF YOUR ESTIMATED CAPACITY, BASED ON YOUR TRAIT SCORES, TO PERFORM THIS COMPETENCY:
N-	N=	Half Full	It stands to reason that the person who would typically feel most comfortable with any kind of change is one who has an even temperament, who remains cool and detached, calm and at ease, in all situations. Your ability to remain calm appears somewhat situational, such that some changes will find you calm, while others could result in anxiety, anger, upset, or sadness.
E+	E--	Almost Empty	The more outgoing, enthusiastic, active, trusting, tactful, and willing to take charge a person is, the more likely s/he will be comfortable with change. You exhibit the opposite--more retiring, sedentary, skeptical, low key, and/or reluctant to take the leadership role, which is likely to make many situations involving change uncomfortable for you.
O++	O-	Running Low	Creativity, curiosity, imagination, comfort dealing with theory, and a preference for the big picture not only accept and support change, but often initiate change. You appear to exhibit the opposite of these qualities, and, hence, are less likely to be comfortable with most change.
O2+	O2--	Almost Empty	You prefer pursuing knowledge and exploring theories primarily in your field of specialization (and perhaps one or two closely allied fields), as well as a preference for the simpler problems to solve in the workplace. This focused intellectual curiosity tends to be less comfortable with most change.
A=	A=	Full	In the best of all worlds, change would be greeted by someone with the attitude of "How might I, as well as others, benefit from this situation?" Such a spirit of negotiation increases the likelihood of comfort with change. You appear to possess a balance of needing to win about half the time, while allowing others to win the other half.
A4-	A4+	Running Low	The more you are able to express your opinions and feelings during times of change, the more you have a chance of getting comfortable with the change. You appear to be moderately reserved, and thus less likely to get your issues on the table.

TRAIT CAPACITY FOR COMPETENCY:

Innovation, Comfort With

OPTIMUM TRAITS:	ACTUAL TRAITS:	AVAILABLE TRAIT ENERGY:	DESCRIPTION OF YOUR ESTIMATED CAPACITY, BASED ON YOUR TRAIT SCORES, TO PERFORM THIS COMPETENCY:
C-	C=	 Half Full	You tend to be somewhat spontaneous in some situations, and more methodical in others. Accordingly, you will likely find some change situations more agreeable than others, going with the flow on some occasions so long as the flow is compatible with your beliefs or values, but on other occasions preferring a more methodical approach.

TRAIT CAPACITY FOR COMPETENCY:

Keyboarding Accuracy

Overall estimated Fit, or capacity for this competency:

FOUR (One = Low; Five = Medium; Ten = High)

Interpretation of Fit Score:

Draining

A person who performs this competency well at work:

- Can focus on the here and now
- Patient paying close attention to detail
- Careful to avoid errors

Cialdini, Trost, & Newsom (95), de Fruyt & Mervielde (97), Hayes, Roehm, & Castellano (94), Howard (00a)

OPTIMUM TRAITS:	ACTUAL TRAITS:	AVAILABLE TRAIT ENERGY:	DESCRIPTION OF YOUR ESTIMATED CAPACITY, BASED ON YOUR TRAIT SCORES, TO PERFORM THIS COMPETENCY:
N1+	N1--	Almost Empty	The temperament that finds itself being vigilant in trying to avoid errors is characterized by an elevated level of anxiety and worry. You exhibit the opposite, showing an extremely calm and non-anxious, non-worrying outlook.
N3+	N3-	Running Low	The kind of attention to detail and avoidance of errors that supports keyboarding skills is associated with a pessimistic outlook that doesn't take things for granted and that experiences a sufficient level of guilt to take responsibility for accuracy. You appear to have the opposite outlook--more often optimistic than pessimistic.
N4+	N4++	Full with Surplus	Keyboarding accuracy is supported by being acutely attuned to the present environment in such a way that you would make few errors of omission as the result of being underaroused, or insufficiently alert. Your sensitivity to stress and crises indicates that you are clearly alert and aware of what is happening at all times.
E5-	E5-	Full	The more skeptical (or less trusting) one is, the more likely one will avoid errors in keyboarding. You appear to possess this trait to a moderate degree.
A4+	A4+	Full	Efficient keyboarding is often associated with the kind of person who keeps opinions to him- or herself and proceeds with the work quietly and obediently. This appears to characterize you to a moderate degree.

TRAIT CAPACITY FOR COMPETENCY:

Listening

Overall estimated Fit, or capacity for this competency:

FIVE (One = Low; Five = Medium; Ten = High)

Interpretation of Fit Score:

Somewhat Natural

A person who performs this competency well at work:

- Can keep silent while others express themselves
 - Keeps ego and personal needs out of the conversation
 - Tries to understand others before expressing self
- Howard (00a)*

OPTIMUM TRAITS:	ACTUAL TRAITS:	AVAILABLE TRAIT ENERGY:	DESCRIPTION OF YOUR ESTIMATED CAPACITY, BASED ON YOUR TRAIT SCORES, TO PERFORM THIS COMPETENCY:
N3-	N3-	Full	Listening is optimally supported when the listener has a more optimistic outlook, as more pessimistic listeners tend to cloud the message with doubt, guilt, or a sense of failure. You appear to be moderately optimistic.
N4-	N4++	Almost Empty	Remaining calm during and after a crisis, emergency, or other stressful situation aids listening, keeping a greater portion of the brain available for problem solving and thinking through issues. You appear to be much more reactive in such situations and to experience significantly more stress.
E1-	E1+	Running Low	A cool, quiet demeanor supports listening by providing a neutral, accepting atmosphere for others, while too much enthusiasm and warmth can dampen the outlook of someone more reserved. You appear to be somewhat warm and enthusiastic in your manner.
A+	A=	Half Full	Persons who are accommodating by nature, who tend to defer to the needs of others and minimize one's own needs, tend to be more natural in a listening role. You appear to be situational in this regard--accommodating to some in some situations, and not in others.
A2+	A2=	Half Full	Persons who defer to others in an argument tend to be perceived as better listeners, as opposed to those who hold out for their own point of view. You appear to be situational in this regard--deferring to others' points of view in some situations, and not in others.
A3+	A3-	Running Low	Pride tends to interfere with listening, while humility tends to support listening. You appear to be moderately proud.

TRAIT CAPACITY FOR COMPETENCY:

Listening

OPTIMUM TRAITS:	ACTUAL TRAITS:	AVAILABLE TRAIT ENERGY:	DESCRIPTION OF YOUR ESTIMATED CAPACITY, BASED ON YOUR TRAIT SCORES, TO PERFORM THIS COMPETENCY:
C+	C=	 Half Full	Persons who naturally focus on the task at hand and exhibit discipline tend to feel more natural in a listening role. You appear to be situational in this regard--focused and disciplined in some situations, and not in others.
C4+	C4+	 Full	The more naturally one is able to concentrate on the task at hand, e.g., by resisting distractions, the more natural one finds being in a listening role. You appear to be moderately natural at concentrating on the task at hand.
C5+	C5-	 Running Low	Having a temperament that is prone to being methodical, to sticking to a plan, tends to make listening a more natural activity, as spontaneity can interfere with the requirements of good listening. You appear to be somewhat more spontaneous than methodical.

TRAIT CAPACITY FOR COMPETENCY:

Managing through Systems

Overall estimated Fit, or capacity for this competency:

FOUR (One = Low; Five = Medium; Ten = High)

Interpretation of Fit Score:

Draining

A person who performs this competency well at work:

- Understands how complex systems and processes interrelate
 - Naturally and effectively monitors complex systems and intervenes as necessary
 - Trusts the system to work, but revises it when needed
- Furnham, Crump, & Whelan (97)*

OPTIMUM TRAITS:	ACTUAL TRAITS:	AVAILABLE TRAIT ENERGY:	DESCRIPTION OF YOUR ESTIMATED CAPACITY, BASED ON YOUR TRAIT SCORES, TO PERFORM THIS COMPETENCY:
N-	N=	 Half Full	The calmer the temperament, the easier it is for one to deal with complex systems, as emotional reactivity tends to decrease available mental resources. You appear to be situational in this regard--calm in some situations, and more reactive in others.
N3-	N3-	 Full	Complex systems can suffer from the excessive intervention and continual tinkering that proceeds from a highly pessimistic frame of mind. You appear to be moderately optimistic.
E-	E--	 Full with Surplus	Monitoring complex systems requires a still, quiet temperament that can observe and study without much need for a lot of activity and socialization. You appear to have an extremely still and quiet temperament.
O+	O-	 Running Low	Managing complex systems is performed most naturally by someone who has a temperament that is comfortable dealing with a broad range of processes and variables and that naturally looks for relationships among diverse element. You appear to prefer operating with less complex systems.
O1+	O1++	 Full with Surplus	An active imagination is able to monitor a complex system and "read between the lines," seeing possible relationships that more literal persons might not recognize. You appear to have a highly active imagination.
O2+	O2--	 Almost Empty	A breadth of knowledge supports the management of complex systems by providing a broader spectrum of technical mastery. You appear to have a much narrower range of interests.

TRAIT CAPACITY FOR COMPETENCY:

Meeting Management

Overall estimated Fit, or capacity for this competency:

SIX (One = Low; Five = Medium; Ten = High)

Interpretation of Fit Score:

Somewhat Natural

A person who performs this competency well at work:

- Facilitates discussion effectively; encourages diverse inputs
 - Uses time wisely; neither belabors points nor allows superficial treatment
 - Develops an agenda and follows through
- Mohr & Howard (99), Howard & Howard (93)*

OPTIMUM TRAITS:	ACTUAL TRAITS:	AVAILABLE TRAIT ENERGY:	DESCRIPTION OF YOUR ESTIMATED CAPACITY, BASED ON YOUR TRAIT SCORES, TO PERFORM THIS COMPETENCY:
N=	N=	Full	A moderate amount of emotional reactivity supports the facilitation of meetings--reactive enough to spot emotional disturbance among other members, yet calm enough to spread confidence among them. Your reactivity appears to be situational--reactive in some situations, calm in others.
N3-	N3-	Full	An optimistic temperament supports meeting management by tending to instill in members a "can do" attitude. You appear to be moderately optimistic.
E+	E--	Almost Empty	An outgoing, extraverted temperament supports meeting management by comfortably engaging in dialog for as long as it takes to get the job done, without craving solitude and pushing for premature adjournment. You appear to be much more reserved, or introverted.
E1+	E1+	Full	A temperament that is warm and enthusiastic supports meeting management by making others feel comfortable being there and participating. You appear to be moderately warm and enthusiastic.
E2+	E2--	Almost Empty	A sociable temperament supports meeting management by permitting one to spend as much time around other people as is necessary to get the job done. You appear to be much more solitary than social.
O=	O-	Half Full	A moderate amount of creativity, imagination, and comfort with theory enables effective meeting management by providing a facilitator who is imaginative enough to get the meeting unstuck when necessary, yet practical and detail-oriented enough to keep a realistic focus. You appear to be more practical than most.

TRAIT CAPACITY FOR COMPETENCY:

Meeting Management

OPTIMUM TRAITS:	ACTUAL TRAITS:	AVAILABLE TRAIT ENERGY:	DESCRIPTION OF YOUR ESTIMATED CAPACITY, BASED ON YOUR TRAIT SCORES, TO PERFORM THIS COMPETENCY:
A=	A=	 Full	A meeting manager needs to be an effective negotiator and peace-maker by being neither too aggressive nor too deferring. You appear to be situational in this regard--deferring to others in some circumstances, and standing up to them in others.
C=	C=	 Full	A moderate degree of discipline and focus supports meeting management by helping to keep the meeting on task and on schedule, yet flexible enough to take detours when necessary. You appear to be situational in this regard--more disciplined on some topics, and less so on other topics.

Motivation of Others

Overall estimated Fit, or capacity for this competency:

FIVE (One = Low; Five = Medium; Ten = High)

Interpretation of Fit Score:

Somewhat Natural

A person who performs this competency well at work:

- Brings out the best in people
 - Gives recognition to others in a fair and consistent manner
 - Genuinely cares about other people
- Howard (00b)*

OPTIMUM TRAITS:	ACTUAL TRAITS:	AVAILABLE TRAIT ENERGY:	DESCRIPTION OF YOUR ESTIMATED CAPACITY, BASED ON YOUR TRAIT SCORES, TO PERFORM THIS COMPETENCY:
N-	N=	Half Full	A calm and at ease demeanor tends to bring out the best in others. You appear to be situational in this regard--calm in some situations, and more reactive in others.
N3-	N3-	Full	Optimism tends to be a strong motivator. You appear to be moderately optimistic.
N4-	N4++	Almost Empty	People who are resilient, who weather a crisis well and do not require time for recovery, tend to serve as a source of motivation for others. You appear to be much more reactive, and much less resilient than others.
E++	E--	Almost Empty	Motivating others typically requires an outgoing personality that is comfortable keeping up communication and being available to others as needed. You appear to be much more solitary and private.
E1++	E1+	Full	Motivating others is made more natural by possessing a certain level of warmth and enthusiasm. You appear to be moderately warm and enthusiastic.
E2+	E2--	Almost Empty	A certain amount of gregariousness supports the task of motivating others by enabling one to feel comfortable spending a lot of time around associates. You appear to be much more solitary.

TRAIT CAPACITY FOR COMPETENCY:

Motivation of Others

OPTIMUM TRAITS:	ACTUAL TRAITS:	AVAILABLE TRAIT ENERGY:	DESCRIPTION OF YOUR ESTIMATED CAPACITY, BASED ON YOUR TRAIT SCORES, TO PERFORM THIS COMPETENCY:
E3++	E3-	Running Low	The greater one's energy level, the more motivating one tends to be. You appear to be somewhat more sedentary.
A1+	A1+	Full	A natural disposition to help others get their needs met tends to be highly motivating for others. You appear to be moderately focused on helping others meet their needs.
A4--	A4+	Running Low	Assertiveness is an important ingredient in motivating others, as they need to know what you are thinking and feeling. Reserve makes people have to read your mind. You appear to be somewhat more reserved.
C+	C=	Half Full	People who are driven, and focused around that drive, tend to be motivating to others. You appear to be situational in this regard--driven and focused in some aspects of work, and not in others.
C1+	C1-	Running Low	Perfectionism motivates others by setting a high standard. You appear to be casual about standards--not particularly perfectionistic.
C3++	C3--	Almost Empty	Other people tend to be motivated around those who possess a strong drive and will to achieve. You appear to be much less driven than many others, and much more comfortable with your current level of achievement.
C4+	C4+	Full	The ability to concentrate and stay focused on the task at hand tends to be motivating to others. You appear to find it moderately natural to concentrate and stay focused on priorities.
